Career Opportunities The world is increasingly becoming a global village, with Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs) playing a fundamental role in our day-to-day lives. South Africa, like other countries, realises that ICTs can indeed bring about positive change in its socio-economic development. CUT's contribution to this national agenda is realised through diploma, BTech and MTech programmes offered in the Department of IT. Through these programmes, the university contributes to the ever-increasing demand for a wide range of highly skilled information technology professionals in fields such as web applications, communication networks and software development. The department is particularly unique in the country, as it offers courses in mobile programming and games development. The department has state-of-the-art Cisco equipment through which students get hands-on experience in computer networking, which provides opportunities for various professional certification pathways. Our graduates will be able to take up jobs in: Systems analysis: System developers, application designers, business analysts, information analysts, management information analysts, system analysts. Computer networking: Computer network administrators and technical assistants. Database development and management: Business database analysts, database administrators, database managers. Project management: Information Systems (IS) project leaders. Read the IT - Communication Networking brochure (PDF) for a better understanding of the programme.

Postgraduate qualification is only for applicants who have completed one or more Higher Education/Tertiary qualification. Example would be Postgraduate Diplomas, Honours, Masters' and Doctoral Degrees.
Undergraduate qualification is for those applicants who are currently in Grade 12/Secondary school or hold equivalent certificates. Examples would include Bachelor's Degrees, Higher Certificates and Diplomas.
Advanced Diplomas are not for Grade 12 holders or Secondary school leavers but for applicants who have completed one or more Higher Education/Tertiary qualification.
You are therefore advised to select carefully to eliminate delays in your application response by CUT.
